

Local News

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horton Monday a daughter.

Union county's primary election will be held on Saturday, May 16th.

The Journal is asked to say that all who are interested in the cemetery at Zion are requested to meet there next Saturday morning to help clean off the grounds.

Mr. B. Croft Pigg, who has just closed a term of school at Bethesda, has accepted a position with the county auditor, Mr. T. W. Eddins. Mr. Pigg spent Sunday with home folks at Pageland.

Mr. A. F. Funderburk suffered a light stroke of paralysis last Wednesday morning, and he was unable to speak for a day or two, though he had the use of his limbs and body. He is now able to be out again.

Mr. C. W. Clark, proprietor of the City Barber shop has just completed his latest modern convenience, a shower bath. You can now get any kind of barber work from a shoe-shine to a hot or cold bath in shower or tub. A traveling man said the other day, "You people should be proud of your barber shop; it is almost up to the best in the city."

The material for the new steel bridge across Thompson's creek is coming rapidly, says the Chesterfield Advertiser. Mr. A. D. Chapman, of Cheraw, will construct the bridge on the Cheraw road and Prof. S. L. Duckett will place the bridge at Craig's mill. There are quite a number of steel bridges in the county, and upon the old wooden bridges will be a thing of the past in this progressive county. Mr. H. F. King, city engineer, is deeply interested in the development of the county.

Mr. A. G. Anderson has purchased from Mr. S. I. Evans the single-story skyscraper on the southwest corner of Pearl and McGregor streets, together with the entire stock of goods, and will continue the business at the same stand until further notice. Mr. Anderson desires that all of his and Mr. Evans' old customers and 78 new ones visit him in his present comfortable and spacious quarters. If you have difficulty in locating the place, ask some one and he will take pride in pointing out to you this well known establishment.

Mr. Brown Pigg, a prominent young farmer of Buford township, had an operation for appendicitis in a Charlotte hospital a few weeks ago, and he is still unable to do his farm work. On last Wednesday his neighbors carried thirty-one plows into his fields and while some plowed others cleaned up and his farm was put in good shape before they quit. What better expression of neighborliness could one desire? Mr. Pigg and his family were made happy by this friendly lift, and those who helped felt better and were better.

The county Democratic convention was held at Chesterfield Monday. W. P. Pollock was elected chairman and W. P. Odom secretary and treasurer. Delegates were then enrolled from the various voting precincts. W. F. Stevenson was reelected a member of the State executive committee, and M. J. Hough was reelected county chairman. The county is entitled to six delegates to the State convention to be held in Columbia May 20, and the following gentlemen were elected: J. O. Taylor, J. Clifton Rivers, M. M. Johnson, A. A. McManus, D. P. Douglass and Edward McIver.

The new opera chairs for the school auditorium have arrived and have been placed in the room ready for the approaching commencement exercises.

Mr. A. H. Mangum is having material placed to build a garage on the lot just south the bottling plant. The building will be 20x40 feet. Mr. Guy Watts will have charge of the garage and will do general repair work on automobiles, etc.

Yesterday was the dustiest day in a long time. The weather was dry as there had been very little rain in two or three weeks and the wind blew furiously all day. Clouds of sand and dust caused a halt in nearly all out door work. Those who ventured out came in rubbing their eyes and talking about the wind.

Two negro girls discovered, early this morning, the body of a man lying in the edge of the creek running under the Seaboard trestle near the edge of the city, says the Cheraw Chronicle. They came back to town and reported the fact. Several colored men went to the scene and found that the party was one Isaac Taten, an old colored man who has been living in the town for some time. He was alive and was brought up town for treatment. As the old man was unconscious it has not yet been learned how he came to be in the creek.

Rev. J. D. Purvis and Mr. James Oliver were thrown from a buggy in a runaway just north of Ruby last Friday night and sustained painful injuries, though neither was seriously hurt. The horse became frightened and dashed away and as a curve was turned the lines broke and both occupants were thrown out. Mr. Oliver's head was cut in the fall, and Dr. Newsom found it necessary to take six stitches in sewing up the gash. Both gentlemen are now recovering.

The situation in Mexico is still looking better and there is no likelihood that there will be much more trouble. The dispute has been referred to the diplomats of the three South American countries and in all probability the trouble is over. Representatives of the two countries will meet at an appropriate place, probably in Canada and thresh out the differences. From Mexico City comes the report that the general of Huerta will rebel against his chief and that Huerta will probably resign and leave the country. The business of the country has been very little effected by the war talk which has now almost entirely subsided.

Administration Forces Lost In the Conventions

Columbia, May 4.—Results of the county conventions held throughout South Carolina, as compiled late tonight, show that administration forces, those re-organizing Governor Blease, won only in three counties out of 41 as follows: Lexington, Jasper and Chesterfield.

Of the 336 delegates to the State Convention the administration has less than 30, as against 59 in 1912.

Senator McLaurin was left at home in Marlboro getting about 25 votes; Mendel Smith and John G. Richards, Jr., candidates for Governor, were left at home in Kershaw county. In Richland reform of the primary was a leading issue and delegates to the State Convention were instructed to stand by reform of primary. In Charleston Mayor Grace led a rump convention that bolted and two delegations will come to the State Convention from Charleston. The whole up-country, save Chesterfield, went anti-Blease, C. C. Wyche being defeated in Spartanburg for county chairman.

Governor Blease was not sent to the State Convention from his county, while Senator Smith led the delegations from Lee county.
